

Affidavit of Truth

Today's date is June 15th; 2006. Mark Kiser was here at the Warren County Court house.

The reason he was here was to "pay the fines and costs" as ordered by the pre-siding judge, Skerda .

The order was that a contempt of court order would be issued if he did not "pay " by Friday the 16th, 2006.

He had with him a sum of Federal Reserve notes and the balance in silver. He wanted to "pay in full", the total costs and fines. His terms were all or none as he did not want to go to jail for inability to "pay the fine".

He had with him a calculated amount of silver at the current market price of $86.00 for the fine.

The rest of the balance { for court costs } was going to discharged with Federal Reserve Notes.

I witnessed him trying to "pay" the court collections officer, Bonnie Webster? She would not accept his money.

I think that she wanted him to got to jail perhaps because he has cross-filed some very damning paper work into his case. { an exparte action } that has to this date not been addressed.

GOLD COINS

Mention gold coins, and most investors will think "Gold Eagles." Of course, there are many gold coins out there besides Gold Eagles. Such has been the impact of the U.S. Mint's effective marketing campaign.

Few gold coins can boast of the gold heritage of the Gold Eagle. The front obverse, is virtually identical to the many consider to be America's most Augustus Saint-Gaudens' celebratory piece, minted from 1907-1933.

This landmark gold coin was first authorized in 1985 and, through the Mint's strong promotional efforts, quickly became one of the world's leading investment gold coins. Minted in the United States, the Gold Eagle is imprinted with its gold content and legal tender "face" value. Its value is based on the market price of its gold content, plus a small premium.

Beyond its good looks, though, the coins boast an unmatched advantage: the only bullion coin guaranteed by the States government. And that's best assurance to investors.
